

Our Spirit Core

Detail of Spirit Core

Spiritual Veil

The spiritual veil conceals the spirit core from the soul to hide and disguise the roots of thoughts, emotions and motives. This veil must be torn in two by Jesus otherwise the individual is prone to self deception, blindness and living out of their soul. – Matthew 27:51; Mark 15:38; Luke 23:45

Selflessness leads to Spirit Growth

- Growth comes through embracing the eternal cross of Christ, accepting sacrifice, hardship and suffering which reduces anti-spirit (self) mass (resistance over time) and increases spirit mass (spiritual maturity or character) which is seen as childlike faith (lowly, loving, trusting and forgiving) and selflessness.
- Movement is achieved by repentance of evil works (self) – Ezekiel 18:27
- Built by choices to be obedient to Jesus
- The Holy Spirit connects to spirit to lead and guide us – Malachi 2:16
- Eternal in nature as the spirit comes from God
- God's will

Selfishness leads to Anti-spirit Growth

- Growth comes through rejecting the eternal cross of Christ, embracing selfishness, self will and self love which reduces spirit mass (resistance over time) and increases anti-spirit (self) mass (immaturity and inhumanness) which is seen as childishness (proud, bitter, distrustful and unforgiving) and selfishness.
- Movement is achieved by repentance of good works (spirit) – Ezekiel 18:24
- Built by choices to be selfish
- The flesh of others and the demonic connects to anti-spirit to affect us
- Comes from Adam's disobedience to God
- Self will

Biblical Descriptions of Spirit as Manifested in Humans

Appreciative, benevolent, brotherly affection, compassionate, conscientious, considerate, continence, courteous, even temper, excellence, faithful, forbearing, forgiving, gentle, glad, godly, good, harmony, honest, hopeful, hospitality, humility, impartial, innocence, joy, just, kindness, knowledgeable, long-suffering, loving, meek, mercy, mild, noble, pardoning, patient, peaceful, pure, righteous, self-control, sincere, spiritual insight, steadfast, straightforward, tenderhearted, thankful, trusting, truthful, undefiled, unselfish, upright, virtuous, wholehearted

Biblical Descriptions of Anti-spirit (Self) as Manifested in Humans

Abuse, adultery, anger, animosity, arrogant, base, betrayal, bitterness, blasphemy, boasting, brawling, callous, careless, carousing, cheating, coarse jesting, conceit, conscienceless, contentious, covetous, cursing, debauchery, deceitful, deifying of self, depravity, disorderly, dissension, divisions, drunkenness, enmity, envy, evil speaking, factions, faithless, false accusing, filthiness, fretful, gossiping, greedy, hateful, heartless, high-minded, homosexuality, hypocrisy, idolatry, ill will, immorality, impurity, indecency, indignation, inhumanness, iniquity, insincerity, insolence, intrigues, irreverence, jealousy, lawless, lying, licentious, lustful, malice, merciless, obscenity, obstinate, perjury, perpetual friction, presumptuous, pretence, pride, profanity, protracted wrangling, quarrelling, rage, rebellious, resentment, reviling, rivalry, robbery, rude, scoffing, secret backbiting, self-assertion, self-centered, self-conceit, self-gratification, selfish, self-loving, self-seeking, senseless, sensuality, sexual vice, slandering, snobbish, sorcery, spiritual apathy, spiteful, swindling, thievery, thoughtless, treachery, troublemaking, unbelieving, ungodly, ungrateful, unholy, unrighteous, vainglorious, wasteful living

Spirit Core

Spirit Mass seen as Supernatural

- Miracles, spiritual power and otherworldly experiences are seen as the domain of the supernatural
- Seen as uncommon and rare
- Often described as 'spooky', 'odd' and 'weird'
- Spirit mass is something to be ignored, minimized, avoided, suspicious of, dangerous and destroyed
- Considered a suboptimal, undesired existence

Anti-spirit Mass seen as Natural

- Daily average occurrences, normal human behavior that is to be expected is seen as the domain of the natural
- Seen as common and accepted as such
- Often described as 'good', 'normal' and 'life'
- Anti-spirit mass and 'self' is something to be supported, encouraged, embraced, and expected
- Considered an normal, desired existence

The Supernatural Perspective is a view of our spirit core from the eyes of 'self'. Since 'self' came from satan our Natural state is considered to be one where we cater to our Anti-spirit Mass or 'self' nature. Our Spirit Mass is an existential threat to our 'self' nature and therefore is seen as an unachievable 'pie in the sky' existence with no basis in reality. Our 'self' nature is considered to be the optimal existence and we can expect no relief nor benefit from our Spirit mass or supernatural experiences. In the Supernatural Perspective our focus is always on 'self' with spirit to be something looked down on in condescension as dangerous or invalid. What is considered 'life' under our 'self' nature is the daily grind of selfishness in us and those around us. A life of averageness is our lot as we reject spirit and pursue a daily, regular, normal life of living by 'self's tyrannical rule. Unlike the Subnatural Perspective, spirit is something to be avoided, diminished, attacked and discredited. Instead of fighting 'self' we are fighting spirit, both what is in us and God Himself. This perspective means a lowered bar that excuses all kinds of evil and an anti-spirit mass that draws us continually closer to satan and away from Jesus.

Spirit Core

Spirit Mass seen as Natural

- Miracles, spiritual power and otherworldly experiences are seen as the domain of the natural
- Seen as holy and valued
- Often described as 'normal', 'to be expected'
- Spirit mass is something to be embraced, cherished, encouraged and loved
- Considered an optimal, desired existence

Anti-spirit Mass seen as Subnatural

- Daily average occurrences, normal selfish human behavior that is to be expected is seen as the domain of the subnatural
- Seen as common, profane and accepted as such
- Often described as 'selfish', and 'lifeless'
- Anti-spirit mass or 'self' is something to be discouraged, avoided, and destroyed
- Considered a suboptimal, undesired existence

The Subnatural Perspective is a view of our spirit core from the eyes of God. He created us in the Garden of Eden with our undefiled Spirit Mass as our Natural state. When we were defiled with the Anti-Spirit Mass or 'self' nature it was, and is, seen by God as an unnatural or subnatural existence. Our 'self' nature is always a sub-optimal existence from the natural state of Spirit that God created us to live in. In the Subnatural Perspective our focus is always on God and spirit. What was once considered 'life' under our 'self' nature is rejected for the Abundant Life of Jesus living in us. A spirit of excellence is returned as we reject 'self' and pursue a daily, regular, normal life of living in the spirit. Unlike the Supernatural Perspective, spirit is not something to be avoided by embraced and held as holy. Instead of fighting spirit we are now fighting 'self'. Instead of a lowered bar that excuses all kinds of evil the spirit mass draws us continually closer to Jesus with a focus on excellence.